Earth Still Trembling In Algeria; Casualty Total Set At 3,000

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—The earth still trembled in Orleansville today, more than 24 hours after the disastrous earthquake that wreaked a death toll estimated at more than 1,000. Another 2,000 were hurt.

Shocks less violent than the first were felt five times last night and this morning. One lasted several seconds, bringing down unsteady houses and great pieces of shattered walls. Blast buildings in the heart of the town were crumbling into the streets.

There were 2,000 rescue workers and as many more troops on the spot about 100 miles west of Algiers. The French Army, which rushed all available troops and ambulances to the area, also sent four bulldozers and eight big water tanks, along with eight tons of bread and other food, 50 field kitchens and 35 cooks to man them.

The mayor of the city said:

"We're going to evacuate 95 per cent of our houses, but we won't even know where they are. We're going to put everybody into tents."

RESCUE TEAMS returning here said identification of European victims was proceeding rapidly but they were having more difficulty with the Moslems dead.

Casualty estimates were made more difficult by the fact many Moslems were burying their own dead without sending in reports.

State Liquor Chief Hit By Grand Jury

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Franklin County grand jury today recommended that Anthony A. Rutkowski be replaced as state liquor director.

In a report after weeks of investigation of local gambling, vice and alleged liquor permit holder shakedowns, the jury's report to Judge Joseph M. Harter said:

"This grand jury can have no confidence in his (Rutkowski) continued operation of this department (state liquor department), and believes he should be replaced."

In the same report the jury charged Mayor M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner's administration with giving its "tacit approval" to wide open gambling in the city. The mayor is a native of Circleville.

Three secret indictments were returned in connection with the jury's investigation. Names of those indicted were withheld pending their arrest.

Turnpike Garage Service Bids Asked

COLUMBUS (AP)—Garages within 10 miles of the Northern Ohio Turnpike were invited today to bid on service for disabled vehicles using the turnpike.

The turnpike commission, in inviting bids, said these services would include helping motorists who run out of gasoline, servicing vehicles in need of minor repairs and providing towing and wrecking services for accidents.

Specifications call for all the garages to have, or obtain two light service trucks of no less than one-half ton capacity and one heavy-duty tow truck. Garages servicing the turnpike will be required to provide 24-hour service.

TODAY'S COUNCIL session was called at the request of U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

Sources close to Lodge said he would present a detailed account of the incident, which he previously said last night 396 deaths have been confirmed officially, but most of them appeared to be European residents of the area. They said an accurate accounting of the quake toll will take many days.

Many able-bodied survivors were reported fleeing from Orleansville and the stricken villages. They traveled by horse, bicycle or afoot, carrying a few valued possessions.

FRENCH AND ALGERIAN troops were sent from Algiers and Oran to the trouble spot. American naval authorities ordered the U. S. Sixth Fleet, stationed in the Mediterranean, to stand by.

Planes which rushed doctors and medical supplies to the area returned with the most severely injured. The less serious cases were cared for in emergency field hospitals or simply in the streets.

Two thousand soldiers from Algiers and Oran—bayonets bared—patrolled the region to prevent looting.

PUCO Renews Fight Against Trucking Firm

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio today announced it had asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to conduct a 35-state investigation of a Kansas City truck company, Riss and Co. PUCO says it wants the firm's trucks ruled off Ohio roads.

In its complaint, the Ohio group charged the concern "is not a fit and proper party to operate as a common carrier."

An amended complaint against Riss was filed with the ICC by the Ohio commission. It charged the company, which hauls explosives and other cargo, with violating national and state laws and regulations in Ohio 791 times from 1950 through 1953.

The Ohio group said arrests totaled 523. Inspection records with no arrests came to 268.

Sample arrests cited were 122 for overloading, 30 for speeding and 13 for reckless driving. The state commission said that in all arrest cases the driver either was found guilty or forfeited bond.

Negotiations on a national scale continue at Pittsburgh. The International Union of Electrical Workers, CIO, has threatened to call a strike at midnight tonight unless an agreement is reached. Smith said:

"In response to the large number of comments from employees who do not wish to participate in the strike, the Columbus plant will be open to all those who wish to be of the home as well. See page 5."

Officials of Local 746 were not available for comment.

BURKE RECALLS SAXBE'S SNUB OF BENDER

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sen. Thomas A. Burke (D-Ohio) recalled today that William Saxbe, who now has made his peace with Rep. George H. Bender, flatly refused to endorse Bender at a Republican meeting in Columbus last July.

Bender and Saxbe, whom he defeated in a bitter primary race last spring, appeared together Wednesday night at a Republican rally in Akron. The two exchanged public pleasantries and Saxbe vowed his support of Bender after a summer-long silence.

Such harmony was not in evidence at the similar meeting in Columbus last July, said Burke, whose Senate seat Bender is seeking. He recalled:

"The meeting was called and the scene was set for Saxbe to appear and make peace at a love feast with Bender. A speech was written for Saxbe full of flowery phrases for the man Saxbe denounced so heatedly during the primary campaign.

"The crowd gathered and Bender sat beaming and expectant as Saxbe arose to speak. But Bender and those in the know were appalled when Saxbe tossed aside the speech they had so carefully written. Saxbe completely ignored Bender and never mentioned him."

Despite the outcome of the later meeting in Akron, Burke declared "Saxbe still thinks of Bender as he did in the primary when he denounced him as a 'clown' and a 'buffoon.'"

"I won't disagree with Saxbe's appraisal," Burke added.

THE SOVIET DELEGATE charged the bomber in question had violated Soviet territory and had fired on two MIG fighters which had attempted to warn it. The fighters then returned the fire, Vishinsky said, and the bomber flew out to sea off Siberia.

Columbus Mayor Describes Campaign Against 'Comics'

Sensenbrenner Says Capital Plans To Define Terms, Offer Circleville Copy Of Its Law

Mayor M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner of Columbus, a native of Circleville, promised Friday to keep this city in close touch with the capital's new all-out drive against harmful "comic books."

Sensenbrenner said the drive he is touching off in Columbus will "spell out," or define, the general terms which now represent a weakness in the state law covering such publications. And if this does not make more rigid enforcement possible, he added, a completely new ordinance will be drawn for the city of Columbus to cover the problem.

If a committee he is appointing advises the latter step, the mayor said, he will see to it that Circleville officials receive a copy of the new Columbus law.

In this way, he explained, Columbus hopes to avoid controversies over what is and what is not "obscene" and "lewd" and "sexy". He said he is aware of the state law against obscene publications, but pointed out the wording of the statute needs clarification.

In this way, he explained, Columbus hopes to avoid controversies over what is and what is not "obscene" and "lewd" and "sexy". He said he is aware of the state law against obscene publications, but pointed out the wording of the statute needs clarification.

"THE STATE law just hasn't been effective," he said, "and the committee I'll appoint will have to spell out just what is meant by the different terms. We're all aware of how many of the so-called comic books—which are far from funny—show naked women and deal in vulgar matters.

"And these are the books which our youngsters can step up and buy!"

"I've had this drive in the back of my mind since the time when I had my own book-store. They would send me the same type of books which are more weapons, by a wide margin, than we had a year ago."

Strauss was tight lipped yesterday when reporters sought to find out about U. S. and Russian progress in the atomic arms race.

The AEC chief told newsmen this country has "more weapons, by a wide margin, than we had a year ago" and he said the production rate is mounting rapidly.

But when asked whether the United States has any new weapons, Strauss would only recall that he had said a spring series of weapons tests in the mid-Pacific "were very fruitful."

A newsmen asked if there had been any new Soviet atomic blasts since the United States announced detection of a Russian test about a year ago. After some thought, Strauss replied: "That is a field where I ought not to answer." He cautioned newsmen not to "draw any inferences" from his reply.

The AEC chairman said that "in all likelihood there will be continuing tests of new weapons" at the Marshall Islands proving grounds. Other sources have reported a new test series is in the works for next spring.

Strauss also said he knows of no plan to move the testing area from where a mighty hydrogen bomb was detonated last March, setting loose a radioactive cloud which drifted beyond the warning area.

Prickly heat causes studied by experts

COLUMBUS (AP)—Prickly heat may be more than skin deep, the American Meteorological Society was told here today.

The ailment may indicate something more severe, according to Herbert L. Slutsky, University of Illinois graduate student who has studied the problem with Dr. Fredrick Sargent, university expert.

Slutsky told the weathermen he and Sargent believe the body's adjustment to heat begins to deteriorate with prolonged exposure to high temperatures, especially with high humidity.

He said about one per cent of the cases indicated a disturbance of the adrenal gland—controlling bodily adjustment to environment and stress.

The plucked sweat glands of prickly heat cases appear to contribute to the deterioration so that the condition aggravates itself.

Prickly heat occurred widely during World War II in service personnel in the tropics and hot moist areas or desert areas.

At yesterday's session, one weather expert declared a record book of weather the world over would prove invaluable in fields ranging from meteorology to atomic energy.

Lyle R. Fletcher of the Bowling Green (Ohio) University department of geography said there is an immediate need for a handbook of climatology.

"No reference book has ever been published which gives complete climatological data for the entire country," Fletcher said.

Railroad Man Suffers Burns In Flash Fire

Quick thinking on the part of fellow worker probably saved a Norfolk and Western Railroad employee from more serious burns than he received.

This opinion was voiced by Dr. Robert G. Smith, of Circleville, who treated the injured man at Berger Hospital following a Friday morning accident.

Wayne Kitts, 40, of Ft. Gay, W. Va., suffered second degree burns to his left leg, thigh and hand. He is in "satisfactory" condition at the hospital. Frank Lester, 33, of Shawsville, Va., the man commended by the physician, received second degree burns to the palm of his left hand.

The two men were working as part of an "extra force gang" cleaning out ballast from railroad tracks in the northwest part of Circleville. Kitts was operating a ballast cleaning machine.

A FLASH FIRE, of undetermined origin, suddenly caused Kitts to be enveloped by flames. Lester immediately pulled Kitts to the ground and rolled him in the dirt until the flames, which were burning Kitts' clothing, were extinguished.

A hurried call was put through on a private line maintained by the railroad. While an ambulance was being summoned, fellow workers put the injured men on a motorcar and took them to the railroad's freight station on W. High St.

The ambulance then transferred the men to Berger Hospital where they underwent treatment.

"Kitts will probably be hospitalized for a couple of weeks," Dr. Smith said. "Lester should be highly commended for his quick thinking which prevented a more serious situation."

The incident took place at approximately 8:30 a. m. at a point 100 yards north of Forest Cemetery.

Welding Equipment And Boat Missing; Result Of 2 Thefts

Welding equipment, valued at $250 and a boat were stolen in two separate thefts reported to Deputy Sheriff Carl White.

The welding equipment, missing since earlier this week, was taken from a filling station at Five Trails at the northern city limits.

John R. Trump, of Circleville Route 1, who notified Deputy White of the theft, said some small tools had also been taken, little by little, over a short period of time recently.

The equipment taken from the station, which remains open 24 hours a day with a man on duty at all times, includes the following: two Presto welding gauges, one Presto welding torch and approximately 40 feet of hose.

A BOAT was reported missing from the farm of George Adkins. W. M. Hamilton, of Mt. Sterling Route 1, made the report to Deputy White.

He said some people from Columbus camped on the farm without permission. When they were ordered off, the boat was gone.

The boat was described as 10 feet long and three and one-half to four feet wide. It was painted red and had patches on one side.

All surrounding counties were notified.

Members of the Circleville Parent-Teacher Association, assembled Thursday night for their first meeting of the new school year, heard speakers laud the proposed school-building bond issue.

Probers Label Secret Note As Evidence

But Investigators Rule 'Hot Document' Not To Be Subject Of Testimony

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. McCarthy won a partial victory today in his battle to get his famous "hot document" considered in the censure proceeding against him.

The special censure hearings committee agreed to receive the document in evidence, but not to make it public or allow any testimony on it.

Atty. Gen. Brownell had advised that the document contains security information and cannot be declassified. Brownell gave a similar opinion when McCarthy sought to use the paper in the McCarthy Army hearings earlier this year. It never was accepted as evidence in those hearings in any way.

The decision to make restricted use of it in the current case is an important one for McCarthy. One of the censure charges against him is that he improperly received and used secret government data.

McCarthy HAS contended this charge would fall of its own weight if the document was put in evidence.

The decision to take a look was made at a closed-door meeting of the six-man special committee considering the censure charges. It was announced by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) the chairman, at a public hearing as McCarthy returned to the witness stand on this seventh day of the hearings.

The disputed paper was produced by McCarthy at the recent hearing on his quarrel with Army officials, but members of the committee which investigated that bassel refused even to look at it.

McCarthy OFFERED it at that time in support of his contention that his investigation of alleged Red infiltration at the Army's Ft. Monmouth, N. J., radar laboratory was needed. The paper purported to be a letter from the FBI to Army intelligence reporting on personnel at the laboratory.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said it was not a FBI letter but contained excerpts from a longer confidential FBI memo.

McCarthy is trying on the one hand to prove the 2 $\frac{1}{4}$  page document is "not spurious" and on the other that it does not contain certain rewrites which might make his position of it illegal.

McCarthy, who started to walk out of the hearing yesterday in a row with Watkins over his efforts to discuss the "FBI letter," contends there is nothing in it that would affect the nation's security if made public. Atty. Gen. Brownell, however, has ruled against letting it go into any public record.

The McCarthy camp said it had only a few more points to make. After the close of the defense case McCarthy still was faced with cross-examination by counsel for the committee.

Preceding McCarthy's threat to walk out on the hearing yesterday was his effort to place the "letter" in the record.

But Watkins cut him off repeatedly. His voice rising excitedly McCarthy declared he had "every reason to believe this was and is a copy of a document in the Army files." He went on to declare it proves the Army had FBI warnings "year after year" of a danger to security at the nation's secret radar laboratories.

"JUST A MINUTE," Watkins interrupted sharply. He told McCarthy not to continue along that line until the committee had made its ruling. "This," Watkins said in severe tones, "I regard as a diversion."

McCarthy started to speak again, but Watkins, plainly showing anger, gave the floor to Sen. Ervin (D-N.C.) instead.

Then McCarthy stood up, his features rigid with an appearance of suppressed rage. Slowly he turned his back on the committee, and just as slowly he walked away—perhaps 10 paces—from the witness table.

With the air of a man counting to 10 in order to control himself, and then repeating the process a few times, he stared at the high ceiling of the marble-walled caucus room. Then, still slowly, he walked back to his chair and sat down.

When he gained recognition again, he asked in clipped tones if

U.S. Researcher Says Heavy Smokers Can Develop Cancer

WASHINGTON (P)—A government researcher said today heavy smokers now 40 years old of reaching age 80 without suffering lung cancer.

Nonsmokers—6 men out of 1,000 will suffer lung cancer.

Light smokers (up to  $\frac{1}{2}$  pack of cigarettes a day)—25 in 1,000 will get lung cancer.

Those smoking about one pack a day—49 out of 1,000 will get lung cancer.

More than one pack a day—80 out of 1,000 men will get lung cancer.

The American Cancer Society announced last June that one of its studies showed that cigarette smokers 50 to 70 years old died earlier, in groups that were studied, than other men.

But many scientists have said there is no conclusive evidence that cigarettes themselves bring on cancer.

Dr. Johannes Clemmesen of the Danish Cancer Registry, Copenhagen, in a statement prepared for today's meeting, said:

"In spite of many factors which may be expected to obscure the results it appears that there is a distinct correlation between the number of cigarettes consumed in the various countries and the height of their national mortality from lung cancer."

At Fridays hearing he could "have the privilege without interruption of stating his position. Watkins said he thought McCarthy already had done so.

He said McCarthy certainly could speak Friday. He said he would give him "the fullest opportunity to express himself."

But, said Watkins, he would not guarantee McCarthy would not be interrupted—and, in fact, would promise he would be interrupted if he got into "divisive matters."

By HAROLD HARRISON

CINCINNATI (P)—"Westward, the course of the empire..."

That is what once was said about traffic on the Ohio River. But it isn't all westward now. The Ohio River has become a two-way "street."

Ceremonies up and down the river next month will be to commemorate the fact locks and dams, designed and built by the U. S. Engineers, have been a major factor in getting traffic moving smoothly in both directions.

The coal and the steel go downward along the stream. The oil, gasoline and chemicals move upstream.

The powerful tows and their barges go both ways along a route that once saw only canoes and keelboats.

The Ohio Valley improvement Assn. will hold its ceremony here beginning Oct. 18 in connection with its annual meeting. President Eisenhower was invited to participate but set word that because of previous commitments he will be unable to attend. However,

Major Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis, chief of the U. S. Engineers, will speak. Congressmen and representatives of major industries also are scheduled to attend.

Evansville, Ind., already has its ceremony plans under way under the direction of John M. Rimstidt, Evansville banker.

So it will be in other cities.

OVIA officials are hopeful, however, the Ohio won't act up as it did 25 years ago. On that occasion, President Hoover left here by Coast Guard steamer to inspect the locks and dams between here and Louisville, Ky.

But the Ohio chose to go on a rampage. High water sent the stream to such a level that only Dam 37 was in operation. At all the others the Coast Guard boat moved serenely over the dams.

At the 1929 dedicatory ceremonies here, Mr. Hoover said, "This monument will ever remind the people of a great accomplishment."

Now, say the OVIA and the U. S. Engineers, the new "great accomplishment"—construction of the new dams and locks—will:

Reduce river transportation

Black Dog Brings Boys Bad Luck

CLEARFIELD, Utah (P)—A group of Clearfield youngsters are certain it is black dogs—not cats—that are unlucky.

It was a black dog that led to their apprehension for stealing Police Chief Alpha Padgett's water-melons.

Someone tipped off the chief that the boys who took the melons had a black dog with them. Yesterday the chief saw a group of boys walking down the road with a black dog. He questioned them about the theft. They confessed.

The boys are now paying for the melons.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new agreement among the United States and seven partners to defend Southeast Asia against any Communist attacks looks nice on paper. It has been called a triumph of American foreign policy. It has also been shrugged off as weak.

This is one agreement whose effectiveness depends entirely upon how well the eight nations which signed it—the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Pakistan, Thailand—want to work.

It could be stronger. But, if we were, the Senate might balk. It could include more members—such as Japan, Nationalist China, South Korea—but they may be added later.

First reaction after reading this agreement signed at Manila Wednesday might be: "We'll see how much it means the first time the Chinese Communists put it to a test." But the Chinese may be afraid to test it, fearing that the United States might start a war in Asia.

The agreement will have proved a success if, without a shot being fired, it deters the Communists from aggression.

In Europe the Russians have not moved since 1949 when the Western Allies—including the United States, Britain, France—set up NATO, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The 14 NATO members are pledged to help one another automatically in case any of them is attacked.

The Manila agreement—called the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty—doesn't go as far as NATO. The eight partners agreed only to "act to meet the common danger in accordance" with each member's "constitutional processes." That looks like a wide-open escape hatch.

Presumably this language means the American President and Congress and the governments of the other seven partners would make their own decisions on whether to get into war in Asia.

The Manila treaty, signed by the eight foreign ministers, won't be in force until all the governments ratify it. Secretary of State Dulles could probably get this kind of a treaty through the Senate, but not one as strong as NATO.

Only two of the Manila signers—Pakistan and Thailand—are nations on the continent of Asia. Conspicuously absent were India, Burma, Indonesia and Ceylon. Their absence leaves a large gap in any arrangements the eight partners may make for the military defense of Southeast Asia.

Also absent are Japan, South Korea and the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, although the United States has special arrangements with each of them. All are far more capable of making a military contribution to the new alliance than is little Thailand.

These three may be brought in later, if some obstructions are overcome. For instance, Britain recognizes the Chinese Communists as the legitimate government of China. With the United States it is just the other way around. It recognizes only Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists on Formosa.

But this treaty goes beyond a military alliance. It talks of independence for peoples in the area as soon as possible. It promises economic help. In short, it takes a step forward in giving the people of Southeast Asia some solid reasons for lining up with the West instead of Red China.

Longshoremen Help Minnie Out Of Trap

NEW YORK (AP) — Minnie the Moocher, the best rat-catching cat on Pier 33, has at least a hundred longshoremen for friends. Otherwise, she wouldn't be alive to meow about it.

Minnie, a white cat with dark spots, was born on the Brooklyn pier six years ago. Her favorite hunting ground was an air space beneath and between the wooden planks of the pier. But some workers who didn't know about this came to repair the pier last Thursday and reinforced it with a 15-inch coat of concrete.

Several days passed and no one knew what had happened to the waterfront pet. Then someone heard faint meows from a three-inch standpipe set in the sturdy concrete.

After that, the Longshoremen took matters into their own hands. They borrowed a huge electric drill from a construction gang and bored a 10-inch hole right through the concrete.

After being starved for eight days, now she had been half-frightened to death. She was so upset from the noise of the drill that she wouldn't come near the door to freedom.

Finally, everybody went away, leaving some tuna fish and evaporated milk near the hole. Minnie finally crawled out and started gobbling.

And the longshoremen cheered and went back to their jobs.

Nation's Job Situation Stable

WASHINGTON (AP) — The latest federal survey of the job situation shows little change in either employment or unemployment from July to August.

Usually the number of jobless drops sharply in this period but the figures remained fairly stable this year—largely because unemployment did not increase as much as usual in July and therefore the seasonal return to work in August was less than in most years.

The joint monthly employment report of the Commerce and Labor departments issued yesterday said employment increased from 62,148,000 to 62,276,000 and unemployment dropped from 3,346,000 to 3,245,000.

When Baby Comes, Family Needs 25 Pct. Income Hike

ROME (AP)—When baby comes, an expert said here today, it takes a 25 per cent raise in income for the family to maintain its accustomed standard of living.

Erland V. Hofsten, of the Stockholm Social Welfare Board told 500 scientists at the United Nations conference on population that junior's cost starts lower, but rises steadily past that mark as the child grows older.

Despite the cost, however, another report indicated the average wife still wants children. Prof. Jean Stoetzel of Frances University of Bordeaux, said his survey showed relatively few wives want no children or only one. Most want three.

Dr. Hofsten told the experts from 70 nations his statistics on the cost of children do not include the value of the time parents must devote to their actual care.

Thus, he said, diminishes from 1,200 hours a year when the child is one year old, to 1,100 when the child is over two, and 475 hours when the child is four.

It also does not count wear and tear on the household and its furnishings, which for one child he placed as averaging about 15 per cent of the family's total.

Dr. Hofsten also cautioned that although a considerable increase in income will be needed to meet the costs of a child, most families do not receive it, and may have to lower their living standards.

Few Household Tasks Left For Women, Prof Says

ROME (AP)—A University of Chicago professor says American husbands help with so much of the housework these days that the only tasks now left solely to the wife are "child bearing and sewing."

Describing the progression toward a "woman's world" in the United States, Prof. Nelson N. Foote, director of the university's Family Service Center, told the U.N. Population Conference here yesterday:

"Diaper-changing, dishwashing, cooking, cleaning, laundering, shopping, all tend to become duties shared with the wife, especially when she works outside."

He claimed the 237 hours and 35 minutes he stood on top of the pole was a new world's record, breaking his old one of 192 hours set in Milwaukee in 1952.

He was paid $1,000 for his efforts and departed for a hospital to get treatment for his ankles.

Family Of 12 Makes Big Move

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Moving for the Boysens is no light operation.

Mrs. Dolores Boysen, 35, moved her brood of 10 children, ranging from 15 years to 18 months, into their new home yesterday. The head of the family, Cyril Boysen, was still in Sioux Falls, S. D., cleaning up matters before assuming new duties for a meat packing company here.

"It's like moving Hogan's Alley halfway across the nation," Mrs. Boysen said. It took three moving men two hours to unload the family's household goods. The Boysens came by plane.

Mrs. Boysen got quite a rush from salesmen, and of course milk men. The family takes six quarts of milk a day.

Inventor's New Non-Skid Paint Just One Of 100 Special Types

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Does your wife take in washing?

Well, why not? Don't let her get away with such lame excuses:

"I'd like to take in washing to earn you more money to play the horses, dear. But our washing machine spills water on the basement floor and makes it so slippery I keep falling on my face."

That wifely alibi is no longer named Richard J. Eckart. He invented a nonskid paint.

"We first developed it for the Navy; they wanted a nonskid surface around gun mounts," he said. "But now housewives use it to give a surer footing on cellar steps and the floor of their laundry room."

As a matter of fact, Eckart is getting to be the lazy husband's best friend. In his post as vice president in charge of research for his paint company, he has come up with a number of specialities: do-it-yourself home paints. They are so simple to use that the ordinary intelligent husband has no trouble in telling his wife how to open the cans and do all the painting about the place herself.

You simply buy her a dollar paint roller, hand her the can of paint, pat her on the back, and say, "Go to it, honey. Why should I pay a professional painter $16 a day when I got a swell all-around girl like you?"

But can you really get the hand that rocks the cradle to pick up a paint brush?

"Sure, you can't keep women from painting today," said Eckart, "particularly since we have brushes now that can be cleaned under a faucet or washed out in soapy water. If they don't like a brush or a roller, they can spray the paint on with a vacuum cleaner."

This is pure psychology. Women see so much going into a vacuum cleaner they like to see something come out of it occasionally.

"Surveys show that three out of four home painting jobs are now done by the householders themselves, and often the wives insist on doing it," Eckart continued.

"My own wife does. She paints like mad. I could put her to work painting."

Eckart's repertoire includes more than 100 types of special paints. Each for a separate purpose from covering wrought iron outdoor furniture to refurbishing an old porcelain refrigerator.

"Many of the suggestions come from housewives who want a paint for some particular job around their home," he said.

Example: Wives wrote in warning, "My kids keep scribbling on the walls. What can I do?"

"It took us only about 10 minutes in the laboratory to find the answer to that one," said Eckart. The answer was a hard quick-drying green enamel which children could mark up with chalk to their hearts' content. A wet cloth or chalk eraser easily removed the marks. This chalkboard paint is now used in many schools in place of slate blackboards.

Eckart and his staff also have developed a paint for concrete surfaces, a mildew-proof paint, and a stain that gives ye old hande-rubbed finish to new antique furniture in 20 minutes.

Every year a number of children still die of lead poisoning from chewing on old repainted cribs. Eckart formulated a non-poisonous, lead-free paint for baby furniture, but added this tip:

"These tragedies usually come from babies chewing on cribs that have several coats of older paint on them, put on in the days when most paint had a higher lead content. I don't know of any modern indoor paint that has enough lead in it to cause harm."

Eckart is rather proud of one paint that makes a glass surface appear frosted. Put on bathroom windows it enables a lady to take a shower without the uneasy feeling she is putting on a strip tease act for nosy neighbors.

"Very popular in crowded housing areas," he said. "We call it our anti-peeping Tom paint."

Ex-GI Heads For Germany And Fiancee

Baltimore (AP) — Leroy F. Harris, 29-year-old veteran, is on his way to Germany to rejoin his fiancee and son from whom he has been separated a year.

"One humbly thankful man who a few short weeks ago wanted to die or do anything else to gain release from an intolerable situation is now so happy that he can scarcely control himself."

That's what Harris wrote the Baltimore Sun in a letter mailed last Saturday, the day he sailed for Germany.

He said a gift of $150 from an anonymous donor on Aug. 31 gave him the stake he needed to return.

Harris met his Hungarian fiancee while serving with the 28th Division in Wurtenburg, Germany, when John A. Simon climbed from his car, stumbled and fell.

He awoke several hours later, bruised and shaken, his car gone, and started police on a search for the missing auto.

They found it about two blocks away. It had coasted downhill over a curbing, across a vacant lot and into the parking area of an express company, where it crashed into a truck.

Officers had an easy explanation for Simon's bruises. They said the runaway car probably had run over him.

shortly after World War II.

Their attempts to be married were snarled in red tape and he extended his service in Germany an extra year in an unsuccessful attempt to cut through the restrictions. One final barrier that could not be cleared was a regulation that his wife-to-be furnish birth and citizenship papers, permanently lost in her former home behind the Iron Curtain.

Harris returned to the United States after the Army denied him an overseas discharge and tried to save enough money to pay his passage back. But his nest egg dwindled and in desperation he wrote the Baltimore Sun asking help.

Now, on his way to Germany, Harris can at last marry the girl and give their son, now 20 months old, his name. After that, he hopes to be able to meet the qualifications necessary to bringing them to this country.

DeCastries Raps U.S., Reds Claim

BERLIN (AP) — East Germans leading Communist newspaper is quoting Brig. Gen. Christian deCastries as saying the Americans want war and that "one must fight all American attempts of aggression."

"One must also fight SEATO," the commander of the Dien Bien Phu fortress was quoted as saying in a purported interview published by Neues Deutschland, official organ of the Soviet zone's Socialist United (Communist) party.

The paper said DeCastries was interviewed by its correspondent in North Viet Nam, Dr. Fritz Jensen, last week shortly before the Communists released him.

DeCastries, now in Saigon awaiting transfer to Paris, has talked only briefly with newsmen since his release. The French have refused all requests for interviews.

Gang Is Indicted

CANTON (AP) — The grand jury has indicted six men accused of being members of the "after dinner gang," so called because its loot in some 20 burglaries included 755 cartons of cigarettes and 180 pounds of coffee.

PAUL STRESSES OBEDIENCE TO LAW AND LOVE OF OUR FELLOWS IN ALL OUR DEALINGS

scripture—Acts 6:1-6; Romans 12:9-16; 13:1-10; 1 Corinthians 3:4-9; Galatians 5:13-15.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

IN THE opening pages of the Bible we read God's statement: "It is not good for man to live alone." We are naturally social beings—children, youth, adults, older people. When a man or woman is solitary, happiness is almost always absent. We want very much to have friends—playmates in childhood, companions as we grow older. We need one another.

How can we make friends and keep them? We can learn a great deal in studying today's lesson.

In the book of Acts we are told that the early church was adding many converts, but in Jerusalem there arose a complaint that the needy widows among the Greek Christians were not being taken care of as were the Hebrews.

We have no way of knowing whether this was true or not, but the apostles were concerned about it. They consulted together and decided that they would choose seven of their number to whom they could entrust the matter to see that no injustice was done. After choosing the seven they all prayed for guidance, then laid their hands on the seven, consecrating them for this good work.

Love is emphasized again and

MEMORY VERSE

"Thou shall love thy neighbor as thyself."—Galatians 5:14.

again as Paul's way of dealing with our companions and associates. How we of today need to practice and emphasize that in all our actions and thoughts. Read these words of Paul's in Romans 12, memorize them and strive to act them.

I will not quote them all, for lack of space, but here is the gist of them: We should love with sincerity; cleave to that which is good and avoid evil.

Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love, preferring one another."

Look with affection on one another—playmates, friends, relatives and those with whom we come in contact daily. In our business we should not be lazy, but "fervent in spirit, serving the Lord."

That means that whatever our work, we should do it with energy, remembering Jesus and His tireless work.

"Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer; distributing to the necessity of saints; given to hospitality."

In those faroff days when Christ's missionaries were going about carrying His message, there were very few hostilities at which they could stay even if they had the money—which they very seldom had. So they needed the hospitality of the homes of the brethren.

Top-Of-World Aerial Service Due For Start

Ship To Fly North From Los Angeles To Danish Capital

NEW YORK (AP) — At five minutes after midnight on a cool November morning, a commercial airliner will take off from Los Angeles and head north for Europe.

Twenty-two and a half hours flying time later, the Scandinavian Airlines System (SAS) plane is scheduled to land at Copenhagen, Denmark, after making history's first commercial flight across the polar wastes.

The flight will inaugurate twice-weekly service via the top-of-the-world short cut to Europe. SAS figures that going the longer way, via New York, would take a good 27 hours, assuming fast connections here.

SAS will use DCBs on the flight. The maximum load will be 32 passengers, eight of whom could be sleeper passengers. Eventually, the airline expects to put DC7's into the polar service. Their larger capacity and greater range will make tourist class flights possible.

Nov. 15 has been selected for the first flight, subject to government approval. The polar plane will land at Winnipeg, Canada, and en route at Winnipeg, Canada, and at Blue-West 8 airfield in Greenland. Winnipeg is 1,54 miles from Los Angeles and the flight will take hours, 30 minutes. The 1,984-mile leg to Blue-West 8 will take 7 hours, 50 minutes. The final 2,12 miles to Copenhagen will be covered in 8 hours, 15 minutes. Arrival at Copenhagen is scheduled for 9:25 a. m., local time.

The fare: $1,034.50 for the round trip. And if you want to go via the pole and come back by was of New York, says SAS, you can do it for approximately $20 more.

Warren Kraemer, general sales and traffic manager for SAS here, says five exploratory flights have been made. Because flying over the polar region sends conventional magnetic instruments haywire special instruments had to be designed for navigation.

Is the West Coast market large enough to support the polar route? Kraemer says he's sure of it.

What Do We Do Now, Teacher

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Kindergarten teacher Mrs. Georgia Young chided a 5-year-old candy-chewing pupil with, "we don't eat candy in school unless we have enough to share with everybody in the class."

The young lady countered, "Oh, but I do!" and she produced a sack-full of peppermints to prove it.

Dutch Send Bar Silver To U.S.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A $2,500,000 shipment of bar silver bound for the U.S. Mint here was due to be unloaded today from the Holland American Steamship Amsteldyk.

The 4,203 bars of silver represent a partial payment by the Netherlands government of a U.S. loan. Two previous shipments reached here last July and August.

HARRY STONE of Philadelphia has discovered why he suffered sharp headaches for the past 30 years. Surgeons found a 3½-inch penknife blade imbedded in his skull. Nurse Minerva Mazzeo is giving Stone a drink after surgery removed part of the blade. A second operation will be performed to remove the rest of it. Stone recalled that he was in a fight at the age of 14 and had a few stitches taken in a wound over his left eye. (International)

'Dead' Man, 67, Feels Better Now

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "They said I was dead," Harry Apperson Jones, 67, grinned, "but you can't prove it by me."

Jones was recovering in Veterans Hospital today. Nine days ago he was pronounced dead, only to come to life again in a hearse en route to a mortuary.

Jones blacked out in the garage of his San Gabriel home—"that's all I remember really." An inhalator squad failed to revive him and a doctor said he was dead.

But when the hearse attendants saw the blanket over Jones moving, they changed their course for an emergency hospital. Oxygen pulled him through although he was in a coma for two days.

Jones, a disabled veteran, is president-elect of the Los Angeles chapter of the Rainbow Division. He figures he'll be around for his installation now.

PFC Daniel H. Amsbaugh, 21, whose wife, Gladys, lives in Tarlton, is serving with the 10th Infantry Division at Fort Riley, Kan.

A radio operator in the 87th Regiment's Company D, Amsbaugh entered the Army in March 1953. He was formerly employed by the Davey Tree Expert Co., Kent. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Amsbaugh, live on Route 2, Amanda.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brooks of Circleville Route 3 have just received word that their son has been promoted to Corporal.

His address is: Cpl. Jack E. Brooks U. S. 52273276; C Btry 10th F. A. Bn. 3rd Inf. Div.; A P O 468 c/o Postmaster; San Francisco, Cal.

He is in Korea and a mechanic in his division.

Sokolsky's These Days

She was overly polite. She knows that it was the ill-prepared judgment of General George C. Marshall that made it so easy for Russia to incorporate the whole of the mainland of China in the Soviet Union.

It is still a social error in the United States to call attention to General Marshall's inadequacy in this situation, while it is politically unsound to refer to the correctness of General Douglas MacArthur's judgment concerning Korea and the way to fight the war there.

We refuse to face the facts, and that is Soviet Russia's greatest advantage. It is not religion that politicians have in covering up the mistakes of the past, which means in practical terms that we start on each new road, loaded down with all the mistakes of the recent past.

Thus, at Manila, we omit Formosa and Japan because to do otherwise would be to admit that the State Department has pursued an unsound policy in Asia since 1945.

Higher Glassware Tariff Rejected

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower has rejected recommendations of the tariff commission for an increase on the import duty on certain handblown glassware.

In turning down the recommendations, the President said:

"The fundamental cause of the difficulties of this industry lies in competition offered by machine-made glassware to both imported and domestic hand-made ware."

Eisenhower expressed that view in identical letters to Sen. Millikin (R-Colo), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Rep. Reed (NY), who heads the House Ways and Means Committee.

Tax Rate Changes Seen Possible

TOLEDO (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, speaking at a GOP fund-raising dinner here yesterday, said most future tax cuts "should be in the form of rate changes rather than in higher exemptions."

He advocated additional tax cuts "as rapidly as reductions in government expenditures can be anticipated to justify them," but added that national security and defense costs will determine largely how big and frequent such reductions will be.

Tractor Kills Lad

ASHTABULA (AP) — Eleven-year-old Norman Bismark was killed yesterday when a tractor he was riding upset and burned with his body pinned beneath it.

Mr. Bismark, now 88, and his wife,

Leah, drove their flivver 160,631 miles in 30 years, including several trips across the country.

Mr. Bismark died two weeks ago at age 87.

"I've got no wish to drive a car again," the spry oldster commented as he told of failing to get his driver's license renewed because of failing eyesight. "My wife and I and our Henry" went far enough. It's the only car I ever owned and the only car I ever drove."

Henry Ford once offered to give

Veterans Administration Hikes Compensations And Pensions

New Increase To Be Effective Starting Oct. 1

Time Veteran Has To Enter Training Extended 1 Year

Two changes in Veterans Administration regulations will affect education and training and provide increases in compensation and pensions.

Under Public Law 550, which applies to Korean veterans, an ex-serviceman had to enter into an education or training program by Aug. 20, 1954 or two years after his discharge, whichever date was later.

However, under the new change, a vet has until three years after his discharge, if that date is later than the Aug. 20 deadline.

Effective Oct. 1, there will be increases in pensions and compensations in both service and non-service-connected cases.

SERVICE CONNECTED

Widows without children get an increase from $75 to a new amount of $87 a month. Each dependent parent of a vet whose death was service connected each receive $40 a month instead of $35. If only one parent is living, the new rate is $75 compared to the previous $60.

The following are the rate increases for vets with varying degrees of disability:

	DISABILITY	OLD	NEW
10 per cent	$15.75	$17
20 per cent	31.50	33
30 per cent	47.25	50
40 per cent	63.00	66
50 per cent	86.25	91
60 per cent	103.50	109
70 per cent	120.75	127
80 per cent	138.00	145
90 per cent	155.25	163
100 per cent	172.50	181

The above increases are in addition to the increases which veterans, with more than 50 per cent disability, are receiving for dependents.

NON-SERVICE CONNECTED

Widows without children will now get $50 a month, a $2 increase. A widow with one child will get $63 as compared with $60 before. Each additional child will be allowed $7.56, 36 cents over the old figure.

Veterans receiving total pensions increased to $66.15, a $3.15 boost per month. At age 65, or if the vet has received the pension for 10 years, he will now get $78.25 as compared with $75 before. Aid and attendance, if required, will jump from $129 a month to $135.45.

All increases will appear on checks received Nov. 1. This will reflect the Oct. 1 increase.

Further information concerning these changes may be obtained from the Veterans Service Officer in the basement of the Pickaway County Court House.

She Has 2,000 For Dinner Every Day—And Likes It

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

May Leone entertains 2,000 people at dinner every night and likes it.

Her working day starts at noon and ends after midnight, six days a week.

Her home is a half-acre of the most expensive real estate in the world, right in the middle of New York's neon-lit Broadway belt. She could afford to live the pampered existence of a Park Avenue matron, lifting a finger only to summon a servant, but she prefers to work 14 hours a day. The reason:

"I met Gene when I came into the restaurant one day for dinner. He asked me if I would like to go flying with him the next day. I went up in his plane with him and we've been up in the air ever since."

When they first were married, Gene bought a home in suburban Dobbs Ferry, and May busied herself with such things as drapes, vain in Brooklyn, she still seems a bit surprised to find herself presiding over an Italian dynasty. Says she:

"I met Gene when I came into the restaurant one day for dinner. He asked me if I would like to go flying with him the next day. I went up in his plane with him and we've been up in the air ever since."

The Leones have two daughters, Lasia, named after mother Leon, and Ellen, named for the Irish linens and silver, in the approved manner of brides.

"But all of a sudden I realized that about the only time I ever saw Gene was between 2 and 4 o'clock in the morning, after he got back from the restaurant and before he went to sleep," says blonde, blue-eyed, Mrs. Leone. "So we sold the house and moved into the apartment over the restaurant, and we've been here ever since."

The Leones have two daughters, Lasia, named after mother Leon, and Ellen, named for the Irish branch of the family. Both married Army officers who also like to cook.
